

I want to leave my daughter and my daughter's daughter a better and cleaner place than I found it.

So I have not only stopped over-ordering, I recycle religiously as well. And you can, too.

It's not difficult. Before we fill our shopping carts and our landfills with extra items that we don't want, let's pause next time we are shopping online and think twice about what we all hopefully really do want: a beautiful Earth to call home.

Thank you.
